

Automation

Three Ways to Automate your Finance Function

Even with the power of Unit4 Financials at your fingertips, there are many processes around the system that can benefit from greater automation and streamlining.

From migration to localisation, discover the modules and add-ons that can drive efficiency in your finance function.

Interface Manager

Managing the systems that interface with your ledger can be a frustrating and time-consuming task - often requiring input from your IT department. You need the ability to run or schedule interfaces, monitor logs and change configurations easily and efficiently.

With Interface Manager, you can control all your existing integrations with Unit4 Financials and build new extensions easily within the system or your own team. Interface Manager provides your business with the power to control your own interfaces from a simple web front-end.

Migration Manager

From mapping to loading, the processes involved in migrating data to your ledger system are complex and resource intensive - especially when dealing with information from multiple sources.

There is no way to guarantee the accuracy of these processes when reliant on manual techniques to complete the task.

Our Migration Manager solution takes care of this for you, streamlining the journey from multiple data sources to your Unit4 Financials system.

U4F Localisation

Different countries have different rules and standards to follow when it comes to your accounting process. The way you lodge invoices can change depending on where you are in the world, while each country has its own reporting requirements and government guidelines to follow.

Our Unit4 Localisation module takes the local complexity out of global accounting processes, reducing the resources needed to manage regional regulations while adding international languages to the interface.

Why Millennium Consulting?

With more than 25 years' experience, we are the experts at working with Unit4 Financials.

We are a premier partner of Unit4 and a leading reseller around the world. We have the knowledge and expertise to help you augment and enhance your Unit4 Financials system. At Millennium Consulting, we help you create the configuration that is best for your business.

Enhance Your Unit4 Financials System

Discover how our modules and add-ons can improve performance and drive efficiency in your accounting process. Get in touch with our Unit4 Financials experts at assist@millenniumconsulting.com to begin the transformation of your finance function.